

Ertad is a non-profit organization based in Switzerland and Georgia. Our projects take mainly place in the region of Tsalenjikha. We aim to enhance children and adolescents' chances for good school, professional and university education and to prepare them for professional life. We organize study exchanges, project weeks in both countries, trainings for students and teachers in Jvari, and initiate small projects with local NGOs. For our current research project in cooperation with German researchers we are seeking:

Research Interns

The position:

The interns will be involved in the development and execution of a study focusing on the attitudes of adolescents in the Tsalenkikha region towards future educational and career possibilities. The tasks will include participation in study's conceptualization, questionnaire design, and data collection. The project will be based in Jvari, municipality of Tsalenjikha (Samegrelo-Semo Svaneti), and the internships will take place in July and August 2017. The exact time period is not yet fixed. We are flexible with respect to the starting and finishing dates. This position could be combined with the translation placement.

Your set of skills and qualifications:

- Bachelor or Master students in Sociology or related discipline.
- Basic knowledge in research methodology.
- Interest in qualitative research. Experience with data collection and processing is an asset.
- Very good command of written and spoken English.

What we offer:

- Opportunity to gain experience in social research.
- Workshops and training in qualitative research methods.
- The atmosphere of a dynamic, interdisciplinary and international team.
- Free housing and coverage of travel expenses
- Job reference after completing the internship
- Salary of 50 GEL / week

Candidates are kindly requested to send their applications in English (letter of motivation and CV), in the form of one single PDF file, no later than June 11, 2017, per e-mail to: ertad.gemeinsam@gmail.com